

BBQ/FRIED FOOD are comfort foods in American cuisines. Flushing restaurants offer different takes on these simple dishes.

Legend Chicken (霸王别姬)

savories with family and friends at a gourmet tea brunch. With dozens of savory dishes to choose from the fried bacon shrimp rolls to sweet egg tarts, Dim Sum is an absolute must eat on your next visit to Flushing.

Joe's Steam Rice Rolls

DRINKS

Flushing is known for its herb and tea shop. After a delicious meal, a bubble tea to go is highly recommended, especially during the summer months.

YiFang Fruit Tea (一芳台灣水果茶)

DUMPLINGS
the world, but Flus diverse selections spicy, especially soup dumplings ">

DUMPLINGS are found all over the world, but Flushing offers the most diverse selections, steamed, fried, spicy, especially the very popular soup dumplings "Xiao Long Bao".

White Bear (白熊

HOT POT cuisine is more than a Chinese soup containing a variety of vegetables and meats. It is quintessentially a group activity, encouraging friends and family to sit around the bubbling pot and participate together.

Xiang Hot Pot (香天下)

NOODLES are a staple in asian cuisine. There's Japanese ramen, Lanzhou hand-pulled, pan-fried, Liang Pi (cold skin noodles), Vietnamese Pho and many more.

Pho Best II (火車頭)

SEAFOOD is very popular in Flushing and many restaurants feature cajun style shake em' up options and milder flavors and spices so diners can enjoy the seafood's original flavors.

Queens and Nassau County, and also to the Bronx.

Hot N Juicy Crawfish

Hot and SPICY. Love it or hate it, it is the authentic signature of Szechuan cuisine in Downtown Flushing. The bold flavors and heat are from garlic, chili peppers and mala sauce which gives Szechuan dishes its unique tongue numbing sensation.

picy Palace (马路边边串串店)

P11. ONE FLUSHING PARKING

© OPENSTREETMAP CONTRIBUTORS